Now, where were we?

 $\sqrt{}$

There is no one information sink for information regarding music festivals, making the searching process cumbersome and ineffective. Users often miss out on events they think they'd enjoy because they are not well-informed. This causes frustration.

Applying what I discovered to my own architecture, we got this...

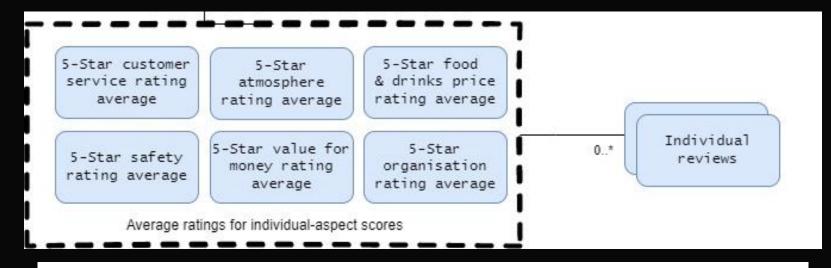

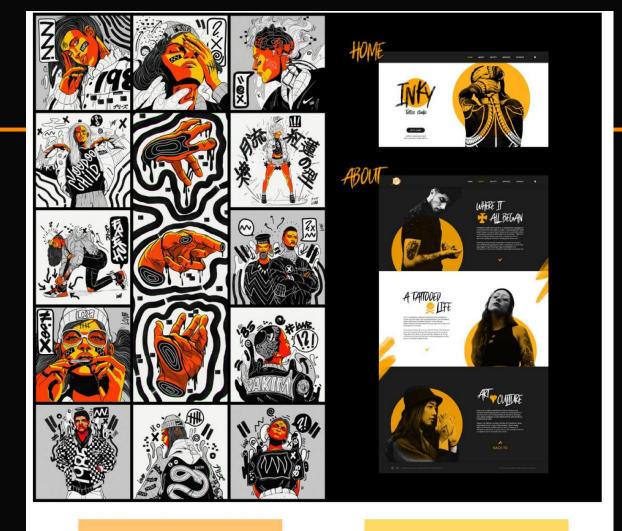

Moodboard

Textured and visually interesting Full shaded colour on specific components of image

Alison Soutar

Solid background colours, accent colours drawing specific attention to desired parts Simple and attention-grabbing

Moodboard

Neon & Glowing

Dark background, glowing attention grabbing components Bright colours, stands out against dark background

Alison Soutar

Specific and limited gradient colour theme

Coloured gradient highlights behind simple graphics. Sections/components with colour, the rest left with solid fill Contrast between colourful gradient and solid fill adds visual interest
